Independence and Ethics

We are independent from the Company pursuant to the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants of the International Federation of Accountants ("IFAC Code") adopted under the resolutions of the National Board of Registered Auditors as well as other ethical requirements applicable to our audit of financial statements

In the course of the audit, the key registered auditor and the auditing company remained independent from the Company in compliance with the independence requirements provided for in the Act on Registered Auditors and EU Regulation.

Our Approach to the Audit

Summary

[Materiality; Scope of audit;
Key audit matters]

- The overall materiality adopted for the purposes of our audit was determined at the level of PLN 13,763 thousand which is equivalent to 2.5% of the average EBITDA value in 2018-2020.
 - We conducted the audit of the annual financial statements of the Company for the period ended on 31 December 2020.
 - Provisions for liabilities related to the mining activity
 - Test for impairment of fixed assets as at 31 December 2020

We designed our audit determining the materiality and assessing the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements. In particular, we considered where the Company's Management Board used their subjective judgement; in respect of significant accounting estimates that involved making assumptions and considering future events that are inherently uncertain. We also referred to the risk of overriding the internal control by the Management Board, including - but not limited to - consideration if there was any evidence of bias of the Management Board that would pose a risk of material misstatement resulting from a fraud.

Materiality

The adopted materiality threshold had an effect on the scope of our audit. The audit was designed to obtain reasonable certainty if the financial statements as a whole do not contain any material misstatements. Misstatements can result from a fraud or error. Misstatements are considered material if it can be reasonably expected that they, individually or in aggregate, could affect the economic decisions of the users made on the basis of the financial statements.

On the basis of our professional judgement, we established quantitative thresholds for materiality, including overall materiality in relation to the financial statements as a whole, as presented below. The said thresholds, together with qualitative factors, allowed us to determine the scope of our audit and the type, time and scope of audit procedures as well as the assessment of effect of misstatements, both individually or in aggregate, on the financial statements as a whole.

The concept of materiality is applied by the registered auditor both in planning and conducting the audit as well as in assessment of the effect of misstatements identified during the audit and not adjusted, if any, on the financial statements as well as in formulation of the registered auditor's opinion. In connection with the aforementioned, all opinions, declarations and statements included in the registered auditor's report are expressed taking into consideration the qualitative and value-based level of materiality established in compliance with the standards on auditing and professional judgement of the registered auditor.

Overall Materiality

PLN 13,763 thousand

Basis for Determination

2.5% of the average EBITDA value in 2018 - 2020 EBITDA is an alternative indicator for result measurement and was defined in the Consolidated Annual Report of the Company and Group in the section "Glossary". The purpose of EBITDA averaging was to determine a standardised measure that could be a basis for determination of the materiality threshold.

Justification of the adopted basis

For the Company, EBITDA is the main indicator analysed by, inter alia, shareholders. We adopted materiality at the level of 2.5% as, on the basis of our professional judgement, it falls within the range of acceptable quantitative thresholds applied for the purposes of audit of financial statements of public interest entities.

We agreed with the Audit Committee of the Company that we would inform about the misstatements of the financial statements identified during the audit if they exceed PLN

1,376 thousand as well as about misstatements below this amount if, in our opinion, it would be justified bearing in mind the qualitative factors.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters which, according to our professional judgement, were the most significant during our audit of the financial statements for the current period. These include the most significant assessed types of risk of material misstatement, including the assessed types of risk of material misstatement caused by fraud. We referred to these matters in the context of our audit of the financial statements as whole and in formulation of our opinion and we summarised our reaction to these types of risk, and in the cases we found reasonable, we presented the most important observations related to these types of risk. We do not provide a separate opinion regarding these matters.

Key Audit Matter

How Our Audit Refers to this Matter

Provisions for liabilities related to the mining activity

In connection with the type of conducted activity, the Company is obliged to create provisions specific for the mining business. These include, inter alia: provision for costs of liquidation of the mining establishment and provision for costs of reclamation of lands occupied to conduct the business activity which amounted to the total of PLN 212,456 thousand as at 31 December 2020.

The value of provisions is a key matter of the audit due to the complexity of assumptions made for the purpose of the calculations as well as the significant value of the balance which is material from the point of view of the financial statements.

The Management Board creates provisions using the report prepared by a third-party expert. The amount of the provision is subject to discounting and the corresponding assets are depreciated over the time corresponding to the expected service life of the mine.

The accounting policy, details regarding adopted assumptions and calculation of significant estimates as well as other significant information in the scope of provisions for liabilities are included in note 2.18 and 17 of the Entity's consolidated financial statements. Furthermore, the effect of the change of the estimate to the value of assets is shown in note 2.1.1.

In order to address the identified risk, we gained detailed knowledge regarding the processes related to estimation of provisions for liabilities, adopted assumptions as well as accounting policies applied in this scope.

We assessed the assumptions made by the Company for the purposes of calculation of provisions, correctness of input data applied in the calculation (including completeness of components of fixed assets that will be subject to liquidation or reclamation) as well as correctness and completeness of disclosures in the scope of provisions related to the mining activity.

We also verified the mathematical correctness of the calculation of provisions as well as correctness of depreciation of assets related to the future costs of liquidation of the mining establishment as well as discount settlement.

We also assessed the competences of the expert, in particular, considering whether he has the relevant knowledge, experience and database to estimate in a reliable manner the amount of future costs of liquidation of the mining establishment and land reclamation.

Test for impairment of fixed assets

In the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2020, the Company presents property, plant and equipment and intangible assets in the total amount of PLN 3,506 million, which represents 81% of the total assets.

Pursuant to IAS 36 "Impairment of Assets", the Management Board of the Company considers the

For the purposes of the analysis of the test prepared by the Company, we have obtained a detailed understanding of the process of creating cash flow forecasts by the Management Board as well as key estimates and assumptions used in the test.

conditions regarding the impairment of fixed assets at the end of the reporting period. For assets for which there are indications of impairment or reduction of a previously recognized write-down, impairment tests are performed at the end of the reporting period.

Based on the analysis of the economic and market situation performed by the Management Board, it was noticed that the current market capitalization of the Company remains for a long time at a level lower than the carrying value of net assets. The Management Board considered this as a condition for conducting the test and determining the recoverable amount.

The calculation of the recoverable amount is associated with making a number of assumptions and judgments by the Company's Management Board. These assumptions and judgements concern, among others, the adopted strategy of the Company, financial plans and cash flow forecasts for the coming years, as well as macroeconomic and market assumptions (mainly relating to coal prices and market demand).

In note 4.3. of the financial statements The Company presented the key assumptions used to assess the value in use of the tested fixed assets. As at December 31, 2020, the carrying amount of the assets covered by the test amounted to PLN 2,818 million, while the value of discounted cash flows estimated, based on forecasts, was PLN 3,099 million. On this basis, no impairment provision of fixed assets was recognized by the Company.

As part of the audit, we checked the mathematical and methodological correctness of the prepared model of estimated discounted cash flows.

We also conducted an independent assessment of the assumptions and estimates adopted by the Company's Management Board, taking into account, inter alia, our knowledge of the industry and the market, regulatory and macroeconomic situation, which included, among others:

- discount rate used (based on weighted average cost of capital).
- average forecasted sales price of the coal,
- increase in average salary (in real terms),
- annual average level of capital expenditures,
- the period of the forecasted cash flows (based on coal operating resources),
- average annual coal sales volume connected with the production capacity as well as the demand on coal on the domestic market.

In terms of analysing the discount rate applied, we have used the work of our internal experts (PwC Capital Markets & Accounting Advisory Services).

Our procedures also included assessing the analysis, carried out by the Management Board, of the model's sensitivity to changes in key assumptions that may affect the valuation result.

In addition, we verified the correctness and completeness of disclosures in the financial statements.

Responsibility of the Management Board and Supervisory Board for the Financial Statements

The Company's Management Board is responsible for preparation, on the basis of properly kept books of accounts, of the annual financial statements which present in a fair and clear manner the economic and financial situation as well as financial result of the Company pursuant to the International Financial Reporting Standards approved by the European Union, adopted accounting principles (policy) as well as provisions of the law and memorandum of association applicable to the Company, and for internal control the Management Board considers necessary to allow for preparation of the financial statements without any material misstatements caused by a fraud or error.

Drafting the financial statements, the Company's Management Board is responsible for assessment of the Company's capability of continuing its operation, disclosure, if applicable, of any matters related to continuation of operation as well as adoption of the going concern principle as the basis of accounting, except for situations when the Management Board intends to liquidate the Company or discontinue the operator or there is no real alternative for liquidation or discontinuation of operation.

The Management Board of the company and the members of the Supervisory Board are obliged to ensure that the financial statements meet the requirements provided for in the Accounting Act. The Members of the Supervisory Board are responsible for supervision over the financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibility for the audit of the financial statements

Our objective is obtaining reasonable certainty if the financial statements as a whole do not contain any material misstatement resulting from a fraud or error as well as issue of the report from audit containing our opinion. Reasonable certainty is a high level of certainty, but it does not guarantee that the audit conducted in compliance with NSA will always identify a material misstatement. Misstatements can result from a fraud or error and are considered material if it can be reasonably expected that they, individually or in aggregate, could affect the economic decisions of the users made on the basis of the financial statements.

The scope of the audit does not cover guaranteeing future profitability of the Company or effectiveness or efficiency of running the affairs by the Management Board, both at present or in the future.

During the audit compliant with NSA, we apply professional judgement and professional scepticism, and:

- we identify and estimate the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements caused by a fraud or error, design and conduct audit procedures corresponding to such risks and obtain audit evidence that are sufficient and adequate to form a basis for our opinion. The risk of failure to identify a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than in case of a misstatement resulting from an error as fraud can be related to collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misleading actions or internal control override;
- we obtain an understanding of the internal control applied for the audit to design audit procedures adequate for the given circumstances, but not to express an opinion regarding effectiveness of the Company's internal control;

- we assess adequacy of applied accounting principles (policy) as well as legitimacy of the accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Company's Management Board;
- we draw a conclusion regarding the adequacy of application by the Company's Management Board of the going concern principle as the accounting basis and, on the basis of the obtained audit evidence, whether there is any material uncertainty related to events or conditions that could give rise to significant doubts regarding the Company's capability in terms of continuation of operation. Should we conclude that the said material uncertainty exists, we are required to emphasise in the registered auditor's report the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if the disclosures are inadequate, we modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the day of preparation of the registered auditor's report, however future events or conditions could result in discontinuation of operation by the Company;
- we assess the general presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including disclosures, and whether the financial statements present the underlying transactions and events in a manner ensuring reliable presentation.

We communicate with the Audit Committee in matters including, but not limited to, the planned scope and time of the audit as well as significant audit findings, including all significant weaknesses of the internal control identified by us during the audit.

We declare to the Audit Committee that we observed the relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and we communicate all relations and other matters that could be reasonably considered a threat for our independence and, where applicable, we inform about the applied safeguarding measures.

Among the issues communicated to the Audit Committee, we selection those most important during the audit of the financial statements for the current period and, thus, we considered them the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our registered auditor's report, unless the provisions of the law or regulations prohibit public disclosure of information regarding them or if, in exceptional circumstances, we find that the given issue should not be communicated in our report as it can be reasonably expected that the negative consequences would exceed advantages of such a disclosure for the public interest.
